PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

Insurance Bureau

The insurance bureau suite of services helps insurers assess risk in order to confidently provide policy premium quotations and automatically detect cases where further investigation is required at the underwriting and claims stages of the insurance lifecycle. The CACHE screening process can be enriched with a number of additional datasets (linked addresses, financial data, ID verification and vehicle data). Discover the CACHE suite.

Early Detection

A point-of-quote or point-of-sale risk tool, designed to deliver an enriched claims history to help detect fraud. Insurers can enrich their internal data with the widest range of external sources, including household, motor and personal injury claims data, supplying identity verification, linked addresses, vehicle verification, and property attributes.

Fraud Investigation

Detect suspicious connections and fraud networks, protecting insurers' business. CRIF services enable special investigators and anti-fraud department users to undertake a real-time single entry search across the multiple databases, performing queries based on complex fuzzy matching principles.

Verification

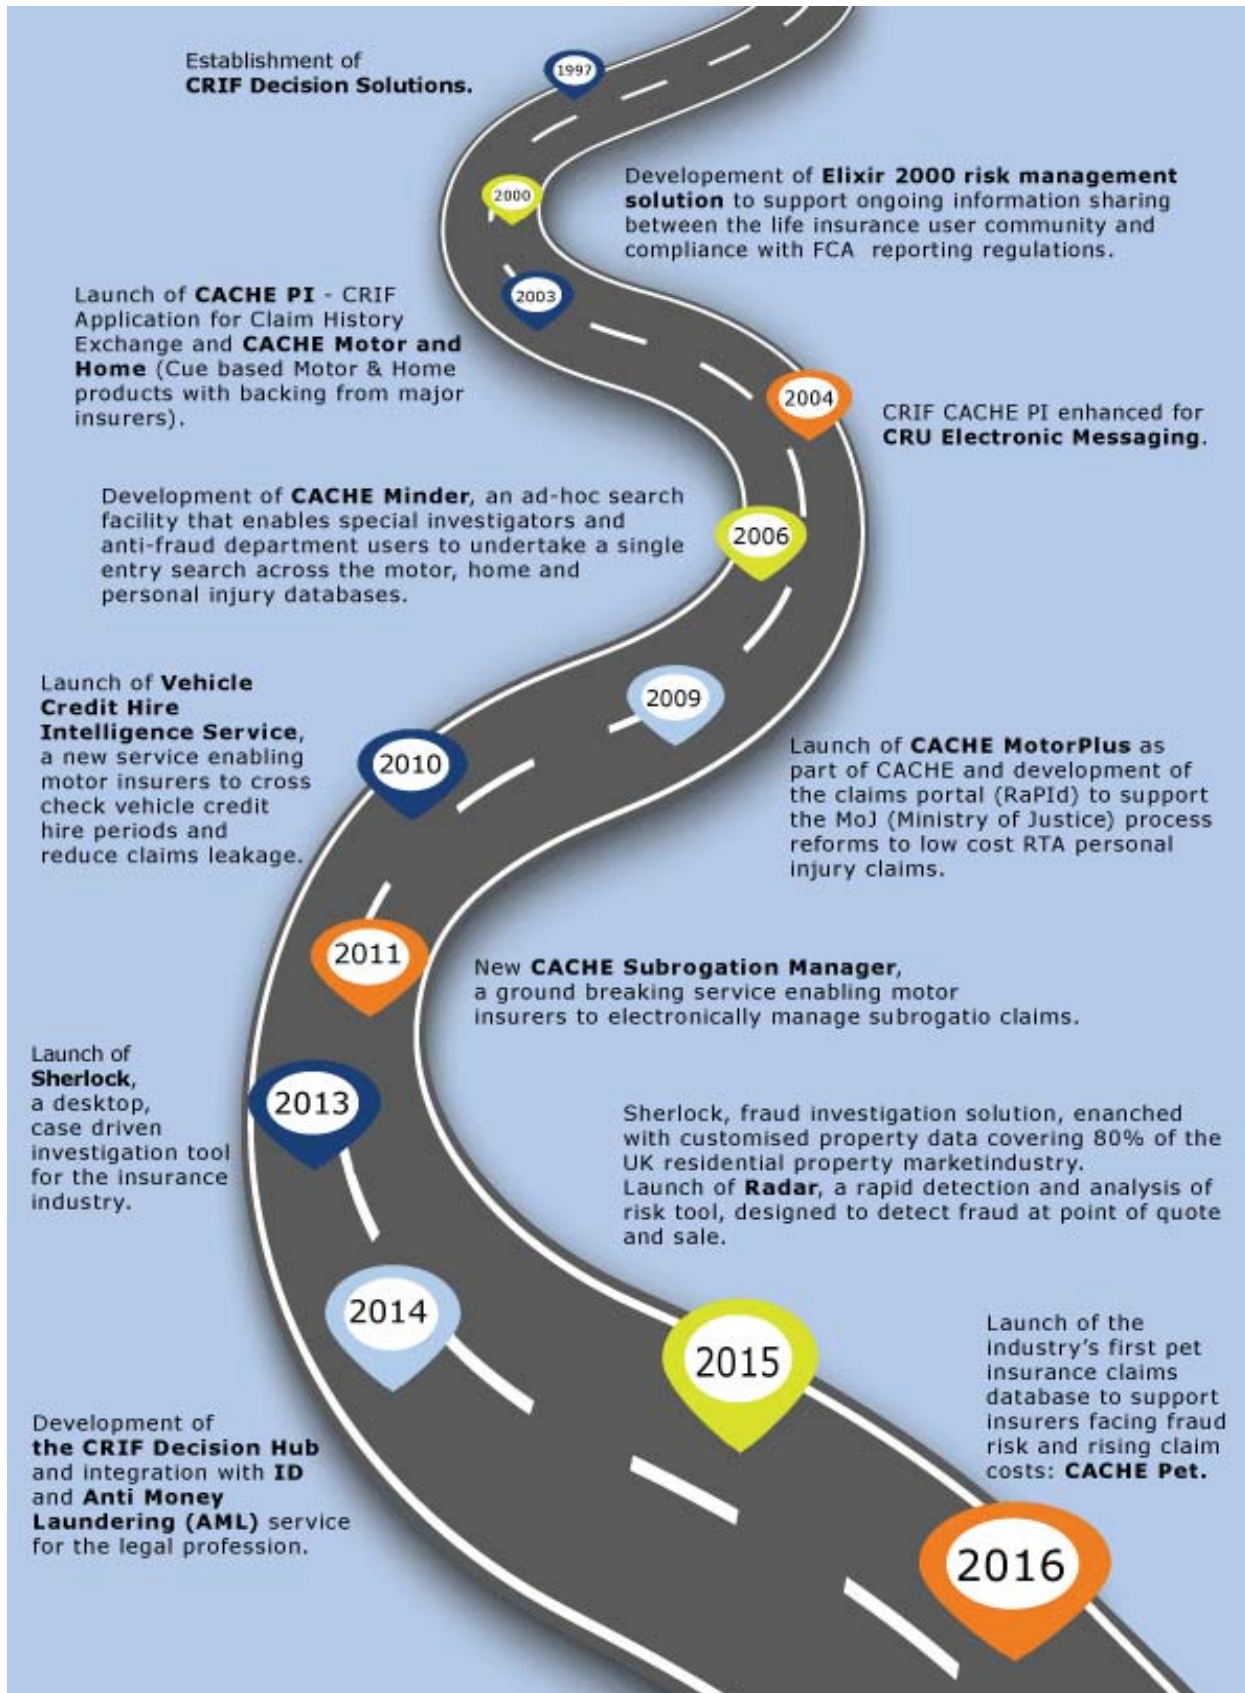

Effective verification solutions help insurers and solicitors prevent fraud and comply with anti-money laundering regulations, accurately check the identity of an individual as well as the provenance and the identity of a vehicle through a combination of numerous data sources.

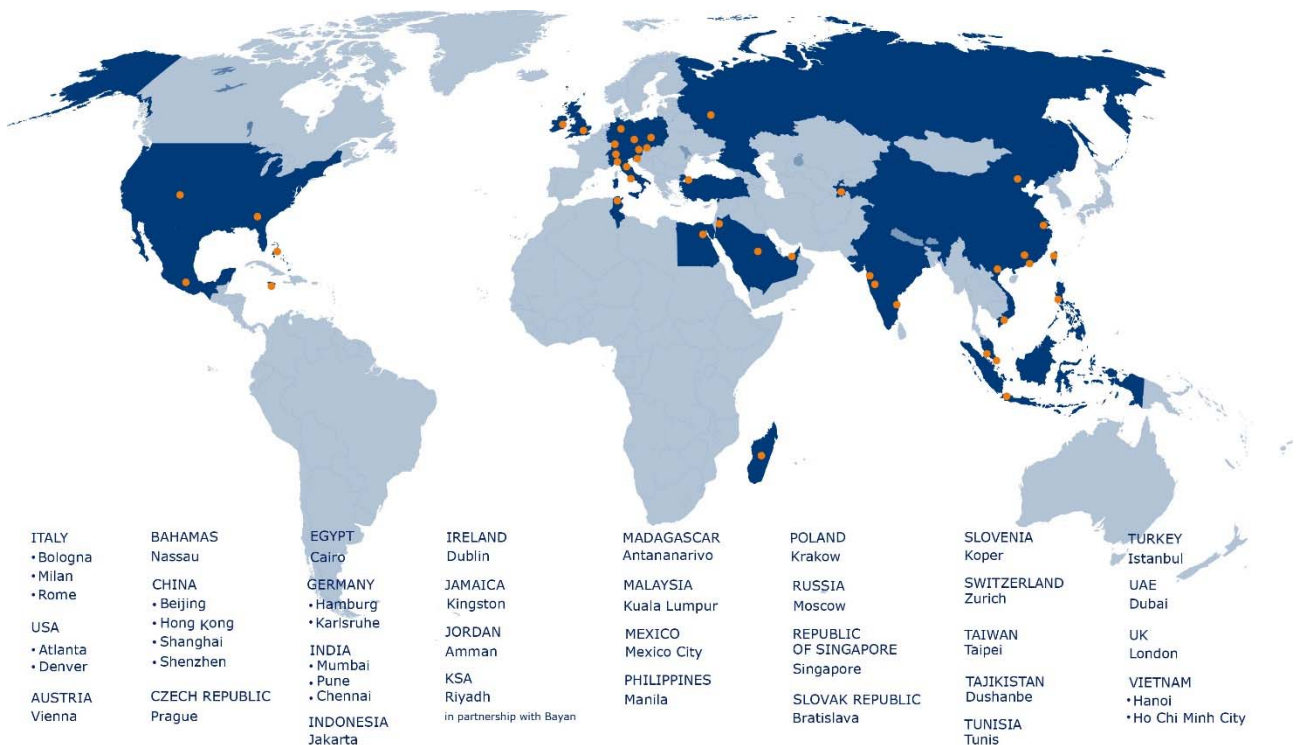

Workflow Systems

Specific workflow systems are developed to support insurance companies and government bodies in automating and streamlining processes.
